Strategic Priorities Update

Grow New and Existing Client Relationships. In the fourth quarter, with the addition of Callcap and Telmetrics, Marchex added more than 300 new clients, including enterprise brands in verticals like Auto, Healthcare, Home Services, Telecommunications and Small and Medium-Sized Business Resellers.

Accelerate Product Innovation. In 2018, Marchex expanded its conversational data footprint to more than one billion minutes of consumer-to-business conversations. This foundational asset gives Marchex one of the largest data sets to leverage as a building block for innovation in developing new sales acceleration solutions to help businesses grow.

During the year, the company significantly grew its data science organization and also launched the Marchex Innovation Development (MIND) Lab, a new research and development group, to support product innovation and help businesses engage and nurture customer relationships across communications channels, including voice and text. The MIND Lab is incubating new technologies and products utilizing Marchex's continuing investment in speech technology, artificial intelligence, personalized customer solutions and conversational analytics. Marchex appointed Dr. Junmei Zhong, a pioneer in artificial intelligence (AI) and natural language processing (NLP), as the Company's Chief AI Scientist.

Expanded conversational analytics leadership with the acquisition of Callcap. In addition to the company's previously announced acquisition of Telmetrics, in November, Marchex announced the acquisition of Callcap, a leading call monitoring and analytics company. With the addition of Callcap, Marchex adds a team that specializes in call monitoring and analytics solutions for more than twelve industry verticals, including home services, healthcare, automotive, and telecommunications. Callcap's innovative technology powers complex, custom evaluations of millions of calls each month, providing deep insights into consumer and business conversations with numerous integrations into the call center environments of many franchise businesses.

"In 2018, we made considerable progress in building a leading conversation analytics company through a combination of product innovation, customer progress and strategic initiatives, which is helping to accelerate our growth," said Mike Arends, Chief Financial Officer. "In 2019, we expect to leverage our industry leading conversational data assets based on hundreds of millions of consumers-to-businesses conversations to introduce new sales acceleration solutions that solve critical pain points for our customers. As we expand to include new communication channels across voice and text, we will continue to invest in our artificial intelligence and data science initiatives to create more long-term growth opportunities for Marchex."

These factors are described in greater detail in the "Risk Factors" section of our most recent periodic report and registration statement filed with the SEC. Non-GAAP Financial Information:

To supplement Marchex's consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with GAAP and to provide clarity internally and externally, Marchex uses certain non-GAAP measures of financial performance and liquidity, including Adjusted OIBA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted non-GAAP income (loss) per share. Marchex also provides Enterprise Revenue, which represents revenue excluding Yellowpages.com LLC ("YP") revenue generating contracts and, subsequent to Dex Media, Inc.'s acquisition of YP (collectively "DexYP"), DexYP revenue generating contracts.

Adjusted OIBA represents income (loss) from operations excluding stock-based compensation expense, amortization of intangible assets from acquisitions, and acquisition related costs. This measure, among other things, is one of the primary metrics by which Marchex evaluates the performance of its business. Adjusted OIBA is the basis on which Marchex's internal budgets are based and by which Marchex's management is currently evaluated. Marchex believes these measures are useful to investors because they represent Marchex's consolidated operating results, taking into account depreciation and other intangible amortization, which Marchex believes is an ongoing cost of doing business, but excluding the effects of certain other expenses such as stock-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets from acquisitions, and acquisition related costs. Adjusted EBITDA represents income (loss) before interest, income taxes, depreciation, amortization, stock compensation expense and acquisition related costs. Marchex believes that Adjusted EBITDA is another alternative measure of liquidity to GAAP net cash provided by (used in) operating activities that provides meaningful supplemental information regarding liquidity and is used by Marchex's management to measure its ability to fund operations and its financing obligations. Financial analysts and investors may use Adjusted OIBA and Adjusted EBITDA and Enterprise Revenue to help with comparative financial evaluation to make informed investment decisions. Adjusted non-GAAP income (loss) per share represents Adjusted non-GAAP income (loss) divided by GAAP diluted shares outstanding. Adjusted non-GAAP income (loss) generally captures those items on the statement of operations that have been, or ultimately will be, settled in cash exclusive of certain items that are not indicative of Marchex's recurring core operating results and represents net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders plus the net of tax effects of: (1) stock-based compensation expense, (2) acquisition related costs, (3) interest and other income (expense), and (4) amortization of intangible assets from acquisitions. Financial analysts and investors may use Adjusted non-

GAAP income (loss) per share to analyze Marchex's financial performance since these groups have historically used EPS related measures, along with other measures, to estimate the value of a company, to make informed investment decisions, and to evaluate a company's operating performance compared to that of other companies in its industry.

Marchex's management believes that investors should have access to, and Marchex is obligated to provide, the same set of tools that management uses in analyzing the company's results. These non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, and should not be considered in isolation, as a substitute for, or superior to, GAAP results. Marchex's non-GAAP financial measures may be defined differently from time to time and may be defined differently than similar titled terms used by other companies, and accordingly, care should be exercised in understanding how Marchex defines its non-GAAP financial measures in this release. Marchex endeavors to compensate for the limitations of the non-GAAP measures presented by providing the comparable GAAP measure with equal or greater prominence, GAAP financial statements, and detailed descriptions of the reconciling items and adjustments, including quantifying such items, to derive the non-GAAP measure.
