August 20, 2024

SEATTLE--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Aug. 20, 2024-- Marchex (NASDAQ: MCHX), which harnesses the power of AI and conversational intelligence to drive operational excellence and revenue acceleration, today announced its partnership with DealerOn, a leading automotive marketing technology company. DealerOn will deploy Marchex's call analytics and attribution platform to optimize marketing campaigns for their customers by leveraging conversational intelligence from calls, including attribution to marketing sources. Customers can integrate this data with their existing digital advertising platforms to improve targeting based on customer intent. By monitoring strategic metrics provided by Marchex, DealerOn customers can quickly assess overall call volume, track important conversation metrics, evaluate Return on Ad Spend (ROAS) performance against business targets, and assess the monetary impact of call volume and handling.

DealerOn is a leading automotive digital marketing company that builds websites and manages digital advertisements for more than 5,000 automotive dealerships and dealer groups across North America. "We chose to work with Marchex because we required a call analytics partner that was continuously innovating and offered solutions tailored to the automotive industry," says Ali Amirrezvani, CEO of DealerOn. "Having a highly knowledgeable support team at Marchex that is very responsive and provides industry expertise was the right move for our business."

"We are thrilled to partner with DealerOn," said Troy Hartless, Marchex CRO. As Marchex continues to expand its innovation and leadership in the automotive industry, this partnership represents a significant step forward in providing essential conversational data analytics solutions for tracking and quantifying marketing initiatives."

Through this partnership, DealerOn will offer Marchex's call analytics services to its clients in three ways:
